Class History

Does it not seem hard to realize that the class of 1949, now confronting you in all its strength and beauty with its wealth of experience written on its various features, was ever a class of silly young Freshmen? Silly young Freshmen, indeed! With nothing in their brains but a lot of nonsense and nothing in their open actions but a lot of giggles, yet such is the fact. That a lot of silly, empty-headed, rattle-brained youngsters could ever have developed into yonder noble, handsome, thoughtful, and wise-appearing Seniors, is indeed something to be thankful for.

Whom shall we thank? Well, first I suppose the Superintendent for his choice of teachers and the care with which he has prepared our schedule of study. Next, the teachers who have so faithfully and patiently worked over our empty brains for the last four years and at last succeeded.

I wish I could picture to you this class as I visualize it now, when it first entered this hall of learning.

There was Delbert Butler, the tallest boy in his class, his favorite occupation, gum chewing, and his favorite study, the basketball reports.

The next wonder was that a girl so devoted to her books as Juanita Guiler, could ever become so proficient in dancing. The ever-recurring question is, How did she find the time? When she is in the midst of the most engrossing dance, we expect to see her pause and read aloud a verse or two from her favorite poem.

We were prepared to find Myron Law, carrying off all the honors in Latin, his remarkable proficiency in pronunciation was at once a wonder and a joy to every Freshman.

But then, wonders will never cease. Even so, we were not prepared to find the little girl, Janet Williams, who, when she entered this class, had hardly passed beyond the mud pie stage, blooming out into a first-class reader of Shakespeare's matchless sentences.

Another very remarkable change has come about in the person of Mary Ann Young. When she entered the Freshmen Class her whole mind seemed centered on the latest fashion plates. Should her gown be trimmed with lace, ribbon or velvet, should there be a tuck or a bias fold on the skirt? These and similar questions seemed to occupy her whole attention. But now her last term she really had two absolutely perfect recitations. Hasn't her development been the eighth wonder of the modern world?

It took us some time to learn that Ardith Rich was fond of embroidering and knitting. It is very soothing, she says, after a hard afternoon of studies, to sit down and knit or crochet for an hour or so, making something for your best boy, and it doesn't cost so much, she says, and it really makes life worth living.

One characteristic, which we learned very early in our career, is that Ilene Dudley just adores spiders, bugs, and worms of all kinds. Alexander sighed for more worlds to conquer. How much more noble is her ambition, "Oh, give me," she exclaims, "a few more bugs to classify, a few more worms to watch develop."

We didn't know that Earl Powell leaves whatever he is doing whenever he sees a girl and is scared to death because of her. Yes scared for fear she will get away before he has time to jolly her up.

When we entered high school as Freshmen, there were thirteen of us. During our first year four members left us: Twila Nicholson, Matilda Kirkbride, Donald Groves, and Raymond King. During our third year Virginia Williams left us, which leaves us with a small class of eight members to graduate.

Class Prophecy

The Senior Class of Sarahsville High
How wonderful the dreams which be
Within the hearts of those who stand
Together here a happy band

The Senior Class of Sarahsville High,
No grouchy souls need here apply,
We are a merry, happy crowd,
Where scowls and whines are not allowed.

We have no time for frowns and tears
We have no time for signs and fears,
For much of joy in life we find,
We disappointment leave behind

Oh, happy class of Sarahsville High
Before us labors stern may be,
But arduous toil we dearly love,
'Twill bring us to the heights above.

Myron Law, now the great pianist of the class, hopes someday to be able to play in Carnegie Hall.

Delbert Butler, the biggest eater of the class, will become the most famous cook in the whole wide world.

Earl Powell will become a famous actor.

Janet Williams, with her bright red hair, is going to become a private secretary.

Juanita Guiler, with her pleasing personality, hopes to become a waitress at Caldwell.

Ilene Dudley will be a railroad president. She will hunt up a truly domestic man for her mate and they will live in everlasting bliss.

Mary Ann Young, who had has some experience as teacher, hopes someday to be a real one.

Ardith Rich, the only Senior that plays in the orchestra, hopes someday to be able to play with Sammy Kay.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1949, of the Sarahsville High School do hereby make and declare this to be our last will and testament, in form and manner as follows:

To the entire school we leave the example we have set as worthy scholars and blameless students. Our record has been spotless and in all the annals of our career we have done no deed, as a class, that we need blush for.

To the community at large we bequeath the influence we have been for the honorable and better things of life; the interest in music, in local dramatics, in debating activities, in charitable drives--all these have contributed to the development of the cultural spirit and in all we have taken part and done our share.

To Junior Butler, Delbert leaves his English grades which he no longer has use for.

Juanita Guiler leaves her ability as the champion typist of the Class of '49 to Rita Kirkbride.

To Mary Kirkbride, Patsy Miley, Sue Wolfe, and Lorita Bates, Mary Ann Young bestows her capacity for fun, her ability to laugh, her good times, and her friendship.

To Patty Bates and Harold Weston, Earl Powell leaves his ability of acting on the stage.

Ardith Rich leaves all her old sheet music and worn out orchestra pieces to Johnny Minosky, Betty Davis, Mary Evelyn Archer, Genevieve Rich, and Velma Hannahs.

Myron Law leaves his studious ability to Bob Larrick, whom he hopes will follow him in farming.

To Marvin Carpenter, Wayne Stottsberry, and Myron Miley, Ilene Dudley conveys her power of saying the wrong thing in the right place, or the right thing in the wrong place. Just how this is accomplished I am not able to say.

To Maxine Wickham and Anna Robinson, Janet Williams will bestow her admiration for the good, the true and the beautiful, hoping it may become so plainly embodied in its constitution and by-laws that "he who runs may read."

As We See Them

EARL POWELL: (Ernie)	Here's a lad who is very quick, Always up to some bright trick.
DELBERT BUTLER: (Deb)	Likeable, friendly, always fun, Jeepers, how that guy can run.
MARY ANN YOUNG: (Annie)	Always ready to tease or smile, A friend really worthwhile.
JANET WILLIAMS: (Red)	A little girl with a big heart, Always willing to do her part.
JUANITA GUILER: (Neat)	Blonde, friendly, peppy, gay Always ready for work or play.
MYRON LEE LAW: (Law)	With a sense of humor that can't be beat, A truer friend you'll never meet.
ARDITH RICH: (Ardie)	Sweet and friendly, Always true, Never mean or cross or blue.
ILENE DUDLEY: (I. D.)	A handy girl to have around, Good-natured and friendly, she's usually found.

Memories

On the school house yard I sit and gaze,
Thinking of the good old days,
We have had as Freshmen here,
At Sarahsville High to us so dear.

It was a long brick school house that stretched before,
As we approached the waiting door,
When we stepped inside all looked dim,
We took our friends icy hands and followed him.

Into the hall and up the steps, to that big room above,
The room was full of anxious ones and oh, how they did shove,
To find a seat which suited them by their acquainted friend,
Little did we know that we would be changed again.

We slowly got acquainted with a smile and a blush,
But when the bell rung we all fell to a hush,
Then the teachers came in one by one with a radiant glow,
You should of seen us then, we looked as white as snow.

An introduction to the teachers was first in line,
Then came the passing of the books which was so fine,
The teachers passed a paper where we wrote our names so fair,
The lessons were assigned and we got out of there.

On through the year day by day we progressed a lot,
Thinking of our bashfulness, we did not,
The other three years we loved the best,
Now we are Seniors and deserve a rest.

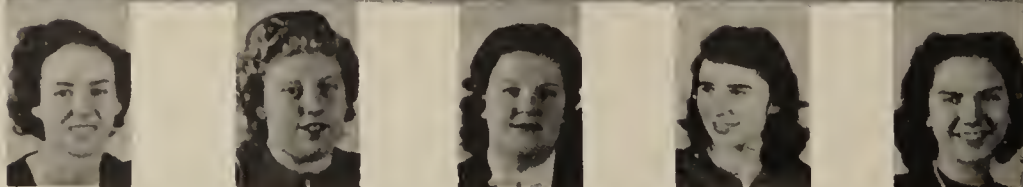

Now we have decided that we don't want to leave at all,
For we know that before us the whole wide world will fall,
Before we leave you, we want you all to know,
That before you our broken hearts lie low.

We hope that you will carry on through the waiting years,
And on our parting day we don't want any tears,
And please remember this, as the sun sails on from east to the west,
Just open your books, use your heads, and do your best.

Class History of Juniors

For three long school years we have toiled here. When we entered we had twenty members, and now there are still twenty, though some have left and others have taken their places. During this year we added one new member, Evelyn Sue Wolfe.

We participated in such events as: Fall Festival, Farmers Institute and Junior Class Play. Two of our members, Bob Larrick and Junior Butler, took part in the Senior Class Play.

The most important event was the Junior Class Play. It was directed by Mrs. Eleanor Sanford. The name of it being, "Auralia Bridge from Hemlock Ridge."

Junior Butler, Harold Weston, Wayne Stottsberry, Myron Miley and Marvin Carpenter went out for softball and basketball. We are sure that by next year they will take first place instead of third place in the tournament.

Several are in the Glee Club and Orchestra this year, they are as follows: Genevieve Rich, Mary Evelyn Archer, Patsy Miley, Johnny Minosky, Betty Davis, Velma Hannahs, and Sue Wolfe.

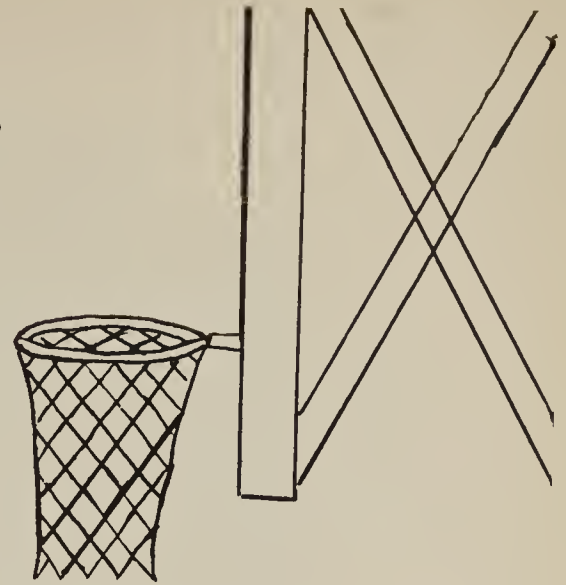

This year we have been responsible for the selling of pop and candy at basketball games and during noon hours on school days.

Our class officers are: President-Mary Evelyn Archer; Vice-President-Patricia Bates; Secretary-Rita Kirkbride; and Treasurer-Harold Weston. Our class colors are blue and white; flower-red rose. Mr. Hobart Bond is our sponsor.

We plan to go to the Cambridge Country Club for the Junior-Senior Banquet on April 28. Mr. H. C. Secrest is guest speaker.

Next year we are planning to be writing the Senior Class prophecy and will, believe it or not.

Freshman Class History

On the opening day of school in September, 1948, twenty-five very nervous boys and girls reported for classes as the pupils of the Freshmen Class. Since school has opened we have added one pupil and lost two which leaves us a total of twenty-four.

Several of our boys have gone out for basketball with Donnie Moore, Donald Bates, and Euril Rich making the first ten of the varsity squad. Other players are: Junior Clark, Buddy Fish, Kenneth Gibson, Gerald Poling, and Edward Robbins.

Soon after school opened our class organized and elected the following officers: President, Helen Davidson; Vice-President, Euril Rich; Secretary, Dorothy Schott; and Treasurer, Betty Everly.

Organized to serve as the pupils' newspaper of the Sarahville High School the "Sarahville Observer" achieved its purpose in the number of issues printed. The editing of the paper was capably taken care of by the new A. B. Dick mimeograph machine. The memorial left by the Senior Class of '49. The experience of serving on the staff gave the students a taste of journalism. The reading of the "Sarahville Observer" gave to all the latest school news.

Junior-Senior Banquet

April 29, 1949 was the date of the Junior-Senior Banquet. The occasion took place at the Cambridge Country Club.

The tables were decorated with vases of White Carnations and candles. The White Carnation is the Senior Class flower.

Everyone was presented with a memory book, which was blue and gold. The colors being the Senior Class colors. The favor was a small felt hat with a long feather.

We had a very delicious dinner which consisted of:

Fruit Cocktail
Roast Stuffed Chicken
Mashed Potatoes and Peas
Mix Salad
Hot Rolls and Butter
Ice Cream and Cookies
Coffee

Next came the program in which the pupils so bravely prepared.

The program started with:

Toastmistress	Mary E. Archer
Welcome	Maxine Wickham
Response	Juanita Guiler
Success	Sue Wolfe
Clarinet Duet	Velma Hannahs and Ardith Rich
To the Juniors	Myron Law
Skit	Rita Kirkbride and Anna Robinson
Ninety and Nine	Patsy Miley
Talk	Mr. H. C. Secrest
Stars	Betty Davis
Prophecy	Patty Bates
Class Will	Earl Powell
Cornet Solo	Genevieve Rich

After the program, the evening was devoted to square and round dancing.

Those who made the banquet possible for the Seniors were the Juniors, and their advisor Mr. Hobart Bond.

We started out by learning how to make samplers of various stitches. The articles which have been made during the year are:

Pillowcases	Houseslippers
Dresses	Earrings
Skirts -----(Clothing) (Christmas Gifts)--	Baby Shoes
Slips	Nightgowns
Blouses	Needlework

Different articles were entered in the Farmers Institute. The first prize on pillowcases given to Ardith Rich. Second prize given to Dorothy Trenner. First prize to Joan Oliver for a wool black skirt. Second prize given to Helen Davidson for pajamas.

Along with sewing the girls prepared a delicious dinner for the Farmers Institute.

We had the pleasure of having a Miss Betty Newton from Cambridge Gas Company. She gave us a very interesting demonstration on health and appearance.

Our work for the year has included Clothing Construction, Textiles, Grooming, Wardrobe Planning and Etiquette. Under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Sanford.
